Challenges

Mutual challenges for the whole team:

- black outs
- sirens and missile attacks
- psychological tiredness of staff involved
- tough work schedule & multitasking
- stakeholders communication and engagement

Team management:
large number of people involved from different admin levels & faculty

(Tetyana Mayboroda)

Recruiting students and promotion of the course

(Alina Mozolevska)

Finding partners for
COIL

(Tetiana Shulyk)

Lessons learnt & Recommendations for similar projects

- be active & keep searching, don't give up
- ask for an advice or support from the more experienced peers
- lead by example (for your University's team)
- build the proper communication channels and timelines with the stakeholders
- encourage students and staff English language learning - spread this to all levels
- search for extra funds or grant projects
- disseminate what you learn during the project by your University's team
- present the intangible benefits for being involved in internationalisation to your team: personal growth, professional network expansion and synergy effect to the whole University
- coopetition - is the key (cooperate with your competitors to get a bigger pie for everybody)

Thank you for your attention!
